Kulshan Recordings was founded by Dawnchaser, Timbor, and Vinganza in June 2012, on the idea that access to music shouldn't be restricted by national boundaries, or economics means.

Not everyone can afford to spend money on music they like, so rather than sit back and feel bad that people are stealing our music, we decided to make our music freely available in many of the same places people were pirating it, and give people the opportunity to pay us directly, so there's no middleman, and no fatcat corporate executive padding his wallet with the fruits of a struggling musician's labor!

The label itself takes in no money, uses no services that COST money, the music doesn't cost you a CENT to download and listen to, and all we do is purely out of a love for the music.

So browse around, see if there's any music you like, and if you dig it, share it! If you REALLY dig it, send the artists a little something for their effort.

And if you really REALLY like the music, demand that your local event promoters book the artist for their next show!
